Cedarville Area Historical Society

CAHS Luncheon at Museum February 4

The February 4 Cedarville Area Historical Society soup, salad, sandwich and dessert luncheon and annual meeting will convene this year in the Cedarville Museum on top of the Second Street hill.

The move from the community center to the museum is possible because that building now has new and modern food serving facilities. The use of the museum will also give visitors the opportunity to be the first to see dozens of the new Addams family artifacts that have been added to the exhibit collection.

This seventeenth annual event has always been held on so-called Super Bowl Sunday, the day the top two American professional football teams clash for the honor of being called "top dog" for a year.

The lunch, which is open to members and non-members of the historical society, starts at 11 a.m. and ends at 1 p.m. The lunch, which always includes at least four homemade soups and dozens of homemade pastries, costs $6 for adults and $2 for children under 12. Second helpings are free.

In addition to enjoying the lunch, CAHS members will also receive a copy of the organization's annual financial report and be asked to vote for three persons to serve for three years on the nine member board of directors.

The lunch will be served in the second floor meeting room. A one button elevator to the second floor is available for handicapped visitors.

There is ample on-site parking. In the event of snow, the street to the museum site and the parking lot will be plowed.

History Class Sign Up Ends March 7

Registration ends March 7 for the four history classes that will explore in depth the story that goes with many of the Addams family artifacts recently acquired by the Cedarville Museum. The classes are sponsored by CAHS and Highland Community College.

The classes will be on March 13 and 27 and April 10 and 24 in the museum. The cost is $50 for the class and text. Registrants must fill out a simple application and a $50 check to the college. An application is on pages 4 and 5 of this newsletter.

Classes will start at 7:30 p.m. on a Tuesday and last one hour. The classes represent the third partnership between the Cedarville Area Historical Society and Highland Community College.

Jim Bade

The classes will be team taught by Andy Dvorak, history instructor at the college, and Jim Bade, president of CAHS.

Furniture from the Addams Cedarville home and artifacts representing at least eight members of the Addams family will be discussed. A textbook with detailed biographies of these family members will be distributed.

Free refreshments will be served after each class. For more information call Jim Bade 815-563-4485.

CAHS Member Donna Dougherty Dies

Donna Gayl Dougherty, formerly of Cedarville and a member of the Cedarville Area Historical Society, 86, died November, 6, 2017. At the time of her death she was living in Stockton, IL.

Her oldest son, Robin, had died a few weeks earlier.

Donna was born November 17, 1930, the only child of Ray and Marie Davidson and spent her early childhood on their farm outside of McConnell, IL, or her grandparents farm in Orangeville before moving to Cedarville where she attended school.

After graduating from Freeport High School in 1948 she worked at Micro Switch as a bookkeeper.

In 1955 she was married to Robert Bauer and moved to Stockton where she raised her three children, Fawn, Robin and Jay.

In 1979 she married Don Dougherty with his six children. The couple lived in Apple River Canyon Lake for 25 years and then moved to Stockton. Don died in 2009.

Her children were very important to Donna. She had five grandchildren on the Bauer side, 13 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren on the Dougherty side. Donna served 25 years on the board of the Stockton Community golf course.
